WHY ENTER

The Citeline Pharma Intelligence Awards Japan recognize and reward outstanding achievements and innovations made in Japanese pharma and biotech, highlighting Japan's integral role in the global life sciences and healthcare market. These awards bring together leading contributors to the global life sciences and healthcare market, to meet and network, discover new opportunities, and reflect on life-changing accomplishments made over the previous year.

Categories are diverse and wide-ranging, including Pharma Company of the Year, Best New Drug Award and Best Contract Research Organization/Contract Development Manufacturing Organization.

Brought to you by Citeline, a Nostella company, the awards provide a unique and trusted platform to enable innovation, growth and commercial success for your organization.

- Honor your organization's outstanding contribution to the pharma and biotech industry.
- Showcase Japan's pivotal role in driving innovation in the global healthcare market.
- Be recognized as one of Japan's leading organizations, and a key contributor to the global life sciences and healthcare market.
- Reflect on the importance of your achievements, and share best practice with other thought leaders in pharma and biotech.

The Citeline Pharma Intelligence Awards Japan are free to enter. The closing date for entries is Monday, 10 July, and the qualifying period for submissions is 1 January 2022 - 30 June 2023.

The judging process will take place between August/September 2023. The finalists will be contacted in September and the winners announced at the Awards ceremony on 17 October, 2023.

LICENSING DEAL OF THE YEAR

FINANCING DEAL OF THE YEAR NEW

PHARMA COMPANY OF THE YEAR

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT

BEST CONTRACT RESEARCH ORGANIZATION/ CONTRACT DEVELOPMENT MANUFACTURING ORGANIZATION

This Award is to recognize contract research organizations or contract development and manufacturing organizations that provide full or specialist services to their clients and which have an office or other base (but not necessarily a head office) either in Japan or the Asia region, including Australia.

Entrant companies must offer services in Japan, but the achievements listed in the entry form do not necessarily have to be trials or services/manufacturing conducted in Japan (for example, clinical trials conducted in China or Australia are also eligible).

Judging will consider the quality and benefits of services and relationships built with clients. For CROs, it will pay particular attention to innovative patient trial recruitment strategies brought to the table, while for CDMOs, novel, more efficient and/or lower cost production processes will be considered.

To qualify, candidates must draw on their achievements in the qualifying period (1 January 2022-30 June 2023).

To enter this category, please answer the following:

- What particular capabilities and strengths does the CRO/CDMO offer?
- How has the company delivered results that exceed sponsor/partner expectations?
- What innovations in patient recruitment strategy has the CRO/CDMO brought to its partner?
- How has it improved its performance, for example, in its quality of data, timelines and transparency?
- What steps is the CRO taking towards improving the collection and reporting of trial data, through new procedures and systems such as electronic data capture, storage and platforms?

BEST NEW DRUG

The Best New Drug Award recognizes excellence in pharmaceutical development. In this category, the judges will be looking for the small-molecule, biological, cell/gene therapy, digital therapeutic or vaccine product approved in Japan during the qualifying period that represents the best therapeutic advance in its area.

Any recently launched new product is eligible to enter as long as it was approved in its first indication in Japan between 1 January 2022-30 June 2023. (Generic and biosimilar products are not eligible.)

Entrants must have played a key role in the development of the nominated product, for example as a sole licensee or co-developer responsible for clinical trials and/or regulatory submissions, and all company members of joint development or joint venture agreements should be disclosed in the application.

To enter this category, please answer the following:

- Brand and generic name, indication, company(ies) involved in its development (if more than one company, please detail the relationship between the parties).
- Date and market of approval and launch.
- Mechanism of action. How is this differentiated from other products and how does it represent a step forward?
- Outline evidence for clinical activity, for example summary results from registrational clinical trials. How does this translate into a meaningful therapeutic benefit for patients and over other drugs?
- What is the potential market size of the candidate?

BIOTECH COMPANY OF THE YEAR

This award honors outstanding achievements by biotech companies over the qualifying period (1 January 2022-30 June 2023). This could be in terms of moving the business from an early stage to a more mature company, signing a transformative deal, taking its first or a major new product towards the market, or raising significant new funds.

To enter this category, please provide the following information:

- The company's most significant achievement during the year.
- Accomplishments in terms of: bringing new products closer to market; raising funds; significant licensing or partnership deals; evidence that management has been able to make difficult decisions to progress the company and its products; using proprietary science or technologies for unmet medical needs; transition from early stage to more mature company.

EXECUTIVE OF THE YEAR

Designed to acknowledge excellence in leadership, the winner of this award will be the executive who has exhibited exemplary leadership throughout the qualifying period (1 January 2022-30 June 2023). Also important to the judges will be the executive's career achievements, influence within the industry and characteristics that make a good leader, such as decisive and clear strategy, team building and employee welfare.

Entrants must hold a C-suite executive position and be employed by the company at the time of nomination.

To enter this category, please answer the following:

- Name, company and position of the entrant, and the date of taking up this post.
- Entrant's greatest achievements during the qualifying year? What has been the direct consequence on company performance?
- How have these achievements strengthened the candidate's influence within the industry?
- Entrant's greatest strengths as a leader? How did these have a bearing on their achievements this year?
- What specific previous accomplishments helped with this success? For example, previous scientific or management experience.

LICENSING DEAL OF THE YEAR

Deals considered here are those that involve the licensing of a particular drug, project or group of R&D assets from one company to another for further development and/or marketing. (This category does not include more complex, broad partnerships between companies, for example to explore particular therapeutic strategies or mechanisms of action.)

The judges will look at all aspects from monetary and strategic value to the benefits they give to both sides. To qualify, licensing deals must have been closed during the qualifying period of 1 January 2022-30 June 2023.

To enter this category, please answer the following:

- Outline the structure of the deal, giving the names of the parties involved, the drug candidate(s) concerned, and what rights it covers.
- Monetary value of the deal in up-front and milestone payments.
- Countries and indications included in the deal and does it allow any party to enter new markets?
- Strategic value of the licensed product to the licensee/licensor's business.
- Please explain how the licensed product was the best possible candidate to complement the rest of the licensee's pipeline or particular disease franchise, or how it fit into the licensor's business strategy.

FINANCING DEAL OF THE YEAR

NEW FOR 2023

This new Award seeks to reward successful and creative fundraising by pharma and biotech companies in Japan, which are either privately or publicly owned.

The investment can take various forms, including grants and public-private partnership deals, to fundraising from venture capital and private equity partners and initial public offerings. The majority of the new funds should be earmarked for use in drug discovery and/or company development.

The basic criterion for this award is the total amount of money raised at one time – for example in a Series A (or later) funding round or through an IPO – but other factors should be considered as well. For example:

- Did the financing attract a broad range of investor groups?
- Did investors include groups that do not normally invest in pharma/biotech?
- Were any particularly novel financial instruments or structures used?
- Was the financing/IPO successful despite being launched in a challenging overall environment?

PHARMA COMPANY OF THE YEAR

The Pharma Company of the Year Award honors outstanding achievement by pharmaceutical companies over the qualifying period of 1 January 2022-30 June 2023.

For this category, our senior editorial team will decide on the winner based on a variety of key metrics as below. It is not decided by the independent judging panel as in other categories. While we actively welcome nominations, we do not announce the shortlist.

The winner will be announced for the first time at the awards ceremony.

If you wish to nominate a company, please send us a nomination form.

- Financial performance compared with the same period in previous fiscal year.
- How the company was able to advance its stated strategy, looking at most significant achievements over the year.
- Progress in emerging markets.
- New product launches including line-extensions and formulations.
- Advances in the drug pipeline, including major clinical trial reports.

LIFETIME ACHIEVEMENT

The winner of this Award will be an exceptional individual with a consistent history of service, above and beyond the call of duty, throughout their distinguished career in the biotech or pharmaceutical arena, primarily within industry.

For this category, our senior editorial team will decide on the winner. It is not decided by the independent judging panel as in other categories. While we actively welcome nominations, we do not announce the shortlist. The winner will be announced for the first time at the awards ceremony.

The winner may be retired or semi-retired but will still be active in the industry in some capacity. The nomination form should outline, in no more than 1,500 words, what the nominee has accomplished during their career and say why they are worthy of this Award.

All nomination forms must include:

- The name of the nominee.
- The job title of the nominee (if applicable).
- The company name (if applicable).
- Your contact details.
- The contact details of the nominee.

JUDGING

The Citeline Pharma Intelligence Awards Japan will be judged by a panel of industry experts within academia and business, with extensive experience in Japan. Each of the judges brings a wealth of specialist knowledge, experience and expertise, carefully selected for their credibility and objectivity.

The Judging Panel is independent and considers entries objectively; each category is reviewed by at least three judges. The judges score each entry against the listed criteria for the category. The awards team collate the scores to determine which entries are included in the shortlist, and the ultimate winner.

The chair of the Judging Panel reserves the right to cast any deciding vote, should the need arise. The judges' decision is final - neither the organizers, nor the Judging Panel, will enter into any correspondence about the results. Details of the winners are strictly embargoed until the Awards night, but details of all the shortlisted entries will be listed on pharmaintelligence.informa.com/citelinepharmaintelligenceawards2023

USEFUL TIPS FOR A WINNING ENTRY:

Read the entry details and judging criteria carefully for each category before starting your submission.

Write your entry specifically for the category in question, check the nomination is in the correct category and would not stand a better chance of winning in a different category.

Do not exceed the word limit. Entries should be 1,500 words or less and there should be no supporting material.

Ensure the activities included were undertaken between the date parameters, 1 January 2022 - 30 June 2023

Ensure each entry meets the specific criteria for its category.

Ensure you have answered each entry question under a separate heading in your submission.

Plan ahead to ensure it's submitted in plenty of time so that, should it be incomplete, there will still be time to correct and re-submit it before the closing date of Monday, 10 July, 2023.

THE RULES

- All entries must be written in Japanese or English.
- All entries must be submitted by a PDF entry form, which can be downloaded on pharmaintelligence.informa.com/citelinepharmaintelligenceawards2023
- Once your PDF entry form has been completed, it needs to be emailed to the Awards team.
- Limit your entry to 1,500 words.
- All entries must be accompanied by a 250-word summary of the entry as you would like it to appear on all publicity material (this is in addition to the 1,500-word entry). Please do not include confidential material in your 250-word summary. We reserve the right to amend your summary if needed.
- All entries must be based on activities undertaken between 1 January 2022 - 30 June 2023.
- Your organization may enter more than one category, provided that each entry has been specifically written to address the relevant criteria and is accompanied by a separate summary.

CONFIDENTIALITY

- Citeline, organizer of the Citeline Pharma Intelligence Awards Japan, recognizes and respects the sensitive nature of the information submitted in the entries. We ensure that this recognition is shared by our Judging Panel and therefore require each judge to sign a confidentiality agreement before they are appointed.
- Entries are not disclosed or discussed outside the judging process.
- Once an entry is shortlisted, extracts from the entry summary only will be sourced for inclusion in the Awards ceremony and any subsequent editorial coverage.
- Please ensure your entry summary contains no confidential or sensitive information. The Judging Panel for each Award is selected to avoid any conflict of interest.
- In addition to the judges, a very limited number of administrative staff in Japan and the UK will handle the entry forms for administrative purposes. By this statement, these administrative staff also agree to the confidentiality agreement.
